

25X1

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Executive Registry

ER 77-8606/

Director of Central Intelligence
7D 5607 Hqs

Sir:

Might it not be better to withhold comments on the Harvard guidelines in
"Notes from the Director" until such time as our forthcoming discussions with representatives of Harvard University are completed?

/s/ Jack

John F. Blake

Acting Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, 7D 6011 Hqs.

8 Aug 77

ADDCI:JFBlake:kmg (8 Aug 77)

Distribution:

Orig RS - DCI

1 - ADDCI

✓ - ER

(EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE

E-1.21

11

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

TRANSMITTAL SLIP		DATE 4 Aug 1977
TO: A/DDCI
ROOM NO.	BUILDING
REMARKS:
FROM: DCI
ROOM NO.	BUILDING	EXTENSION

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004

Date: 4 AUG 1977

TO: Dave
FROM: EA
SUBJECT:

FOR DCI
Notes

REMARKS:

Please chop through Jack Blake before going to Press.

ACTION

3 Aug 77

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP

165A000800080004-5

For Adm T
En Cdr T

Executive Registry
77981006

ACTION

Director's Note on CIA & Academic relations per your request.

It's long, but I think it needs to be to be comprehensive and to fully express the issues and your philosophy.

VR

Dodge

EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE E-1.2.1

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

OK
/b

- 4 AUG 1977

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Next 1 Page(s) In Document Exempt

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

77-8600

3 August 1977

NOTE FOR: Admiral Turner

Sir:

STAT [] got through to Mike Kelly, the Assistant to Attorney General Bell. Kelly talked to Bell about our giving notification to universities. Bell requests that this not be done until he more thoroughly familiarizes himself with the issues involved. He will endeavor to give some advice tomorrow but no commitment. I will continue developing the information we will need in case Bell approves and we do mount the operation.

/s/ Jack

John F. Blake
Acting Deputy Director

Distribution:

Orig - DCI
1 - ADDCI
1 - ER

ADDCI:JFBlakekmg (3 Aug 77)

Distribution:

STAT Orig - DCI (via [] -by hand 8/3/77)
1 - ADDCI
✓ 1 - ER

EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE

E-162.1.1.1.1

19 August 1977

Dear Professor Frank:

I have read your letter of 27 July 1977 with keen interest. It is especially pleasing to hear that the certificate and MA programs you based on the Naval War College curriculum have been successful. Naturally, I applaud your intention to move ahead to the PhD level with assurance that the program will appeal to a significant number of those for whom it is being designed. It is gratifying to know that the approach to the higher education of naval officers that I found persuasive five years ago is gaining acceptance in a wider circle of the defense community.

I can think of no reason why that same approach should not prove personally attractive and professionally useful to qualified officers who are desirous of acquiring a PhD. There is, however, one qualification I wish to call to your attention, though I am aware it may be unnecessary. Most of the officers who are attracted to your program will, of necessity, be leaving their service within a few years. Some of these will wish to seek academic positions as a second career. For this reason, even though you are appropriately aiming your program mainly at serving officers, it seems to me essential that the program be so designed that its completion will assist, and neither hinder nor deter, those who may, upon retirement from the service, choose this second-career option. To this end, as I am confident you will agree, it is of crucial importance that your program be firmly grounded in a recognized academic discipline and that your students, having earned the doctorate, be freely accepted by their academic contemporaries as full professional members of that discipline.

I assume, in your case, that the discipline in question will be history. It might equally as well be political science or economics, or even one of the newer disciplines of systematic analysis. What is essential is that other members of the discipline accept your doctors as respected colleagues. Only time will tell, of course, how PhDs with the new specialty will fare in the academic arena. You can only seek to assure that they will be launched under favorable auspices.

Beyond this, it is difficult to offer you concrete comment without more specific indications of the content of your program. I am enclosing for your information the syllabus of a course that will be given at the National War College during the coming year. You will see that it is concerned with many of the subjects you will wish to incorporate in the more contemporary portion of your PhD program. I do not suggest that you use the course as a model, only that you may find in the syllabus useful suggestions on subjects and readings.

EXHIBIT REGISTRY FILE

E-1.2.1

Lieutenant Commander Harlan Ullman, who was largely responsible for developing the course, and who in doing so consulted many of the best authorities in and out of the Government, including the faculty of the Naval War College, is someone you might well wish later to apply to for comment and advice on the specifics of your program. Ullman has a PhD in International Relations from the Fletcher School where the program he followed bore some resemblance to the one you are designing. Perhaps you have seen the articles he has published in the Naval War College Review and elsewhere.

Finally, let me also say that I am grateful for your compliment to my Foreign Affairs article and that I trust I may look forward to complimenting some of your ex-students on comparable efforts in future years.

With best wishes for the acceptance and success of your splendid project,

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Enclosure

Willard C. Frank, Jr.
Associate Professor of History
Old Dominion University
P.O. Box 6173
Norfolk, Va. 23508

Executive Registry

77-1929/1
15 August 1977

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy to the DCI for National Intelligence

STAT FROM: [REDACTED]
O/D/DCI/NI

SUBJECT: Letter from Professor Willard C. Frank, Jr., Old Dominion University, Norfolk, Inviting
Your Thoughts and Suggestions on a Proposed PhD Program in Military History and Strategic Studies

1. Action Requested: Signature on the attached letter replying to Professor Frank if approved.

2. Discussion:

a. You can hardly not applaud the proposed ODU PhD program, which is built squarely upon the concept of instruction in strategy and policy that you initiated at the Naval War College, with help from [REDACTED] in 1972.

b. Applauding and endorsing, however, are different.
Old Dominion U is a new creation, struggling to achieve standing in a highly competitive community of institutions. I do not believe you should write a letter that might be used to persuade naval officers (and others) to undertake the new course in the expectation that it will contribute substantially to their careers.

c. The letter attached has been carefully worded to applaud, encourage, and assist with useful comment without being quite suitable to be passed around as part of a promotion brochure.

[REDACTED]

5
[REDACTED]

Attachment

Letter to Prof. Frank

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5
O/D/DCI/NI: [redacted] CSJ (15 Aug 77)

Distribution:

Orig & 1 - Addee w/att
1 - ExReg w/att
1 - [redacted] chrono w/att
1 - NI/RI w/att

STAT

AUG 19 2 54 PM '77

ER

Washington, D. C. 20505

19 AUG 1977

Dear Professor Frank:

I have read your letter of 27 July 1977 with keen interest. It is especially pleasing to hear that the certificate and MA programs you based on the Naval War College curriculum have been successful. Naturally, I applaud your intention to move ahead to the PhD level with assurance that the program will appeal to a significant number of those for whom it is being designed. It is gratifying to know that the approach to the higher education of naval officers that I found persuasive five years ago is gaining acceptance in a wider circle of the defense community.

I can think of no reason why that same approach should not prove personally attractive and professionally useful to qualified officers who are desirous of acquiring a PhD. There is, however, one qualification I wish to call to your attention, though I am aware it may be unnecessary. Most of the officers who are attracted to your program will, of necessity, be leaving their service within a few years. Some of these will wish to seek academic positions as a second career. For this reason, even though you are appropriately aiming your program mainly at serving officers, it seems to me essential that the program be so designed that its completion will assist, and neither hinder nor deter, those who may, upon retirement from the service, choose this second-career option. To this end, as I am confident you will agree, it is of crucial importance that your program be firmly grounded in a recognized academic discipline and that your students, having earned the doctorate, be freely accepted by their academic contemporaries as full professional members of that discipline.

I assume, in your case, that the discipline in question will be history. It might equally as well be political science or economics, or even one of the newer disciplines of systematic analysis. What is essential is that other members of the discipline accept your doctors as respected colleagues. Only time will tell, of course, how PhDs with the new specialty will fare in the academic arena. You can only seek to assure that they will be launched under favorable auspices.

Beyond this, it is difficult to offer you concrete comment without more specific indications of the content of your program. I am enclosing for your information the syllabus of a course that will be given at the National War College during the coming year. You will see that it is concerned with many of the subjects you will wish to incorporate in the more contemporary portion of your PhD program. I do not suggest that you use the course as a model, only that you may find in the syllabus useful suggestions on subjects and readings.

Lieutenant Commander Harlan Ullman, who was largely responsible for developing the course, and who in doing so consulted many of the best authorities in and out of the Government, including the faculty of the Naval War College, is someone you might well wish later to apply to for comment and advice on the specifics of your program. Ullman has a PhD in International Relations from the Fletcher School where the program he followed bore some resemblance to the one you are designing. Perhaps you have seen the articles he has published in the Naval War College Review and elsewhere.

Finally, let me also say that I am grateful for your compliment to my Foreign Affairs article and that I trust I may look forward to complimenting some of your ex-students on comparable efforts in future years.

With best wishes for the acceptance and success of your splendid project,

Yours,

/s/ Stansfield Turner

STANSFIELD TURNER

Enclosure

Willard C. Frank, Jr.
Associate Professor of History
Old Dominion University
P.O. Box 6173
Norfolk, Va. 23508

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Old Dominion University • 804-489-6000 • P.O. Box 6173 • Norfolk, Va. 23508

27 July 1977

Executive Registry
77-1929

Admiral Stansfield Turner, USN
Director of Central Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20505

P-1.411

Dear Admiral Turner:

You may recall our conversation before you left Norfolk concerning the strategy and policy curriculum at Old Dominion University. The Certificate and Masters level programs have been quite successful and the officers who have elected them have been the sharpest and most dedicated group of students I have been privileged to know.

I would like to solicit your thoughts on a proposed doctoral program in Military History and Strategic Studies which the History Department is submitting this fall. It is based on the philosophy of the Naval War College curriculum and is also designed primarily for the professional military officer. A basic concept to us is that a thorough study of history is the foundation for the theoretical and contemporary studies which will balance the program. At every stage we would design explorations into context, cause, and effect. Such a doctorate would be unique. We are very excited about the idea, as are the scholars we have so far consulted.

One problem is state reluctance to fund any new doctorate in the face of financial limitations and a popular view of Ph.Ds walking the streets. We need to demonstrate conclusively the need for such doctoral study and that it will enhance existing careers rather than burden a tight job market. We would like to hire a senior professor with an international reputation to head the program, but as costs are crucial, we are prepared to proceed at first with a request to fund a part-time or consulting position, perhaps for a retired scholar. The budget will be tight. Luckily, our library is fairly good and the university has a dedicated core of mid-career faculty in the military history/international relations area to carry much of the burden of the program.

I am enclosing for your information a copy of a flyer on the current Certificate and Masters level S&P program and a copy of the preliminary letter of intent for the Ph.D in Military History and Strategic Studies.

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Admiral Turner
27 July 1977

page 2

We would be very appreciative of any thoughts and suggestions you may have concerning the proposed Ph.D program as a concept or in any specific aspect.

I have been following with great interest your recently published articles. Your piece in January's Foreign Affairs is full of common sense which I hope will become more commonly shared than in the past. At least it should be required reading of every member of Congress.

Finally let me extend my most sincere wishes for the success of your efforts in your current assignment

With best regards

Willard C. Frank, Jr.
Associate Professor of History

UNCLASSIFIED	CONFIDENTIAL	SECRET
OFFICIAL ROUTING SLIP
TO	NAME AND ADDRESS	DATE
1	Rm 7E62, HQS
2
3
4
5
6	O/DCI
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ACTION	DIRECT REPLY
<input type="checkbox"/>	APPROVAL	DISPATCH
<input type="checkbox"/>	COMMENT	FILE
<input type="checkbox"/>	CONCURRENCE	INFORMATION
<input type="checkbox"/>		PREPARE REPLY
<input type="checkbox"/>		RECOMMENDATION
<input type="checkbox"/>		RETURN
<input type="checkbox"/>		SIGNATURE
Remarks:
FOLD HERE TO RETURN TO SENDER
FROM: NAME, ADDRESS AND PHONE NO.		DATE
O/DCI, 7D60, HQS		8 Aug 77
UNCLASSIFIED	CONFIDENTIAL	SECRET

FORM NO. 1-67

237

Use previous editions

☆USGPO: 1976 — 202-953

(40)

EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE E-12.1

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

Executive Registry

77-8706

CASPER COLLEGE
125 COLLEGE DRIVE
CASPER, WYOMING 82601

August 9, 1977

Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

It sincerely would be appreciated if a representative of the Central Intelligence Agency could be made available as a guest lecturer for a course I am offering at Casper College for the University of Wyoming.

The course concerns American politics and institutions with specific emphasis on the intelligence bureaucracy. Since much of our internal and external counter-intelligence and intelligence activity is the result of Soviet action, consideration is also given to the KGB and the GRU.

I estimate that I will complete my lecture series on the CIA on October 26, 1977, and would like to schedule a CIA guest lecturer for a class period soon after that. Classes meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday at one in the afternoon.

The format I suggest for the fifty minute period would be to divide it up into a lecture section followed by a shorter question and answer time. The class would be interested in CIA covert operations and analytical responsibilities.

I have also invited a guest lecturer from the FBI and have requested Ambassador Dobrynin to make one of his military attaches available to discuss overt intelligence activities.

Senator Malcolm Wallop has agreed to lecture on his view as a member of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence.

Sincerely,

Cecil B. Jones

(EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE

E-1.2.1-1

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

UNCLASSIFIED CONFIDENTIAL SECRET
Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT

Routing Slip

TO:		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
1	DCI
2	DDCI
3	D/DCI/IC
4	DDS&T
5	DDI	✓
6	DDA
7	DDO
8	D/DCI/NI
9	GC
10	LC
11	IG
12	Compt
13	D/Pers
14	D/S
15	DTR
16	Asst/DCI
17	AO/DCI
18	C/IPS
19	DCI/SS
20	D/EEO
21
22
SUSPENSE		Date

Remarks:

For direct response, p.b.

Executive Secretary

Approved For Release 2004/03/23 : CIA-RDP80M00165A000800080004-5